

We typically ship most Monday through Thursdays. We will have reduced staff starting March 29th with daily shipping resuming around April 11th. There will still be 1 or 2 shipping days during that time, but not daily. You will receive an automated email with tracking information the evening your order ships.

If you can't wait, consider purchasing STM Tuned or email us for suggestions if you're outside the USA.

We thank you for your patience!
